The Bill Flores for Congress committee has received the Request for Additional Information dated 11/25/2013. For each donor listed as excessive on the RFAI, a refund was issued in October 2013, as was noted when the contributions were originally disclosed, and the refund will be properly disclosed on our YE 2013 report.

In addition, the Committee has reviewed its records and previous contributions specifically designated for debt retirement. Upon initial review, it appears that certain debt retirement contributions were designated for the 2010 runoff and 2012 primary elections in which there is outstanding debt, but for which there may be no net debts outstanding as defined by federal regulations. Because the Committee had different Treasurers during the aforementioned elections, the Committee's Treasurer requires additional time to review these records in detail. To the extent that any contribution for debt retirement has been designated for an election in which there are no net debts outstanding, the Committee will ensure that each of those contributions is properly designated to an election in which there are net debts outstanding or refunded in a timely manner. The Committee will also amend its reports as necessary.
